MOST WONDERFUL ANIMAL IN WORLD

The Great Bivolopus, Half Camel Half Horse—Known as "The Horse With His Head Where His Tail Ought to Be."

The Most Remarkable Freak In The Animal Kingdom Will Be Exhibited On The Picnic Grounds At The Fourth of July Celebration

The following correspondence is self-explanatory. It will be well worth the time of all interested in animal wonders to come to the celebration, if it is only to see this remarkable freak of nature:

GLOBE, Arizona, May 5, '07.
Mr. Adolph Jacobs, South San Francisco, San Mateo Co., Cal.—Friend Jacobs: It is a long time since I wrote you, and you no doubt will be surprised to hear from me; but I trust this finds you well and doing well, and can say same for myself and family.

My object in writing to you is to see if you can do anything with the management at the Chutes in regard to one of the most peculiar animals ever discovered in Arizona. It was found way back in the mountains at our Dripping Springs Ranch, and several scientists that we have had pass upon it have given it the name of "Bivolopus", but down here, among those who have seen it, it is called the "horse with its head where its tail ought to be."

It is one of the most peculiar animals and by all who have seen it it is pronounced to be the only one of its species in the world.

I hardly know how to describe it to you, but from the deductions that have been made it is thought that it is a hybrid or cross of horse and camel. You remember that some years ago the government placed some camels in this vicinity and while most of them have disappeared, every now and then we see one of them on our range, but they are too hard to capture; so that there might be something feasible to this theory, and in my estimation there is.

Now I wish that you would see any one interested in exhibiting an animal of this kind and I will ship it to you and leave it to your judgment. Should the Chutes desire to buy it my lowest price will be $2000 and anything that you get over this amount, you may keep as a commission. You know down here, in this isolated place, it is hard to do anything with a curio of this kind, but there is no doubt in my mind but that you can interest some one in San Francisco. With kindest regards,
Your friend,
WILLIAM G. SHANLEY.

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, May 10, 1907.

Mr. Wm. G. Shanley, Globe, Arizona—Friend Will: Yours at hand, and have seen the management at the Chutes. They said that they will make no bid on the Bivolopus until they see it, and as I will be too busy to give it any attention until after the Fourth of July, wish that you would ship it so that it will reach here about July 1st.
Yours truly,
ADOLPH JACOBS.

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, May 10, 1907

Mayor W. S. Sultan, Globe, Arizona—Dear Sir: I am in receipt of a letter from Wm. G. Shanley, concerning a curiosity in the animal line, and which he calls "the horse with his head where his tail ought to be." He wants me to try and dispose of it in San Francisco. Do you consider it enough of a freak that it would be worth my while to take the matter up with him?

Awaiting an early reply, with kindest regards,
Yours truly,
ADOLPH JACOBS.

CLOSE OF POPULAR TEACHERS' CONTEST

Miss Etta Naumann Wins Prize In First Township and Miss Sallie Nelson In Third.

The last week of the Popular Teachers' Contest, which has been conducted by the ENTERPRISE for some time past, was an exciting one. Many new subscribers held their votes until the last moment Thursday evening, and the result is now announced in this issue publicly for the first time. The winners are entitled to a round trip to Pacific Grove, Monterey county, and a week's vacation at the popular El Carmelo Hotel at that place.

Miss Etta Naumann won the prize in the First Township and Miss Sallie Nelson in the Third. We know both these popular young ladies will enjoy their trip and vacation, and at this time the ENTERPRISE wishes to extend its hearty thanks to the many friends of the various teachers, who, by their subscriptions, have been the means of enlarging the circulation of the ENTERPRISE very materially.

Following is the final result of the contest, which closed last Thursday evening:

FIRST TOWNSHIP

Etta Naumann—5970.
Winnie Lewis—2820.
Marguerite Kauffmann—585.
Grace Lane—400.
Adele Bare—380.
Julia Leonard—260.
OUTSIDE.
Sallie Nelson—655.

GLOBE, Arizona, May 14, 1907.

Mr. Adolph Jacobs, South San Francisco—Dear Sir: Yours in regard to Bivolopus at hand, and will say that I have traveled a great deal and have seen many freaks exhibited, but in my estimation this is unquestionably the greatest freak in the animal kingdom and that you can make no mistake in taking hold of it.

Yours truly,
W. S. SULTAN.

GLOBE, Arizona, May 16, 1907.

Mr. Adolph Jacobs, South San Francisco—Friend Jacobs: Yours at hand. The Bivolopus is thriving nicely and is now about the size of a two-year-old. I have made arrangements with Wells Fargo & Co. to deliver it to you on or about July 1st. Had to pay them $100 and they guarantee safe delivery. It is easily kept and requires no other feed but hay and occasionally grass or alfalfa. However, do not feed it too much green stuff. Now I leave it to you to use your judgment and do the best you can when it arrives. With kindest regards,
Yours truly,
W. G. SHANLEY.

MACHINISTS DECIDE TO RETURN TO WORK

By a Narrow Majority and After a Stormy Session Action Was Taken Which Puts an End to Strike in the Iron Trades.

By a narrow majority the machinists of local No. 98 voted at an early hour Thursday morning in Eagle hall, San Francisco, to go back to work. This came after President J. F. Valentine had addressed the members for two hours, imploring them to rescind their strike action, and put not only themselves again at work, but thousands of other workmen engaged in the iron trades who were anxious to return to work.

This action, which was arrived at only after a stormy session, means that the agreement signed between the iron trades council and the metal trades association will go into effect at once, and peace will exist in the iron industries for three years, at the end of which time the eight hour day will have been achieved by organized labor. More than 7000 men are directly involved in the action taken.

FOREMAN LOSES THREE FINGERS

Andy Miller Is Caught in Machinery at Packing House While Teaching An Inexperienced Man.

Andy Miller, foreman of the sausage department at the packing house, lost three fingers of his right hand while showing an inexperienced man how to run a machine last Saturday morning. He was taken to the Plymouth Hospital, where he is fast recovering from the accident and will soon be out again.

Miller had put a new man to work stuffing sausage and on returning a little later found that the machine was not working right. He stopped the machine and was in the act of taking it to pieces when a part of the machinery fell, catching his fingers. Here Miller displayed wonderful presence of mind. He coolly lifted the iron from his hand, thus releasing his fingers without breaking the skin. He was then taken to the Plymouth Hospital, where the fingers were amputated.

CORPORATIONS MUST PAY LICENSE TAX

Circular Letter Sent Out By Secretary of State Curry States That Tax Is to Be Paid on Entire Capitalization, Irrespective of What Is Paid In.

Each and every corporation doing business in California, or holding the right conferred by the State to carry on business, has just received a circular letter from the Secretary of State, in which notice is given that license taxes must be paid under the new legal schedule before November 30. The penalty for failure is that the delinquent corporations will cease to exist. License taxes that are not paid by September 1 will carry a penalty of $10 each, to be added to the amount specified in the State law.

The letter has caused quite a stir. In the opinion of some the general effect of the enforcement of the law will be to drive many dormant corporations in California out of the field. The highest license tax in this connection is $250, which is the amount to be paid annually by corporations that have authorized capital stock of $1,000,000 and not to exceed $5,000,000. The lowest sum provided for is a license tax of $10 for authorized capital stock of $10,000. The change made by the new law is that the corporations must put up for the entire amount of capital, irrespective of the amount of capital actually paid in.

STEREOPTICON LECTURE.

"The Malay Peninsula and Borneo" Will Be the Subject.

On Sunday evening, June 16, the pastor of St. Paul's M. E. Church will give the sixth stereopticon lecture of the summer series. The subject for to-morrow night is "The Malay Peninsula and Borneo." Some eighty beautiful slides are now on hand for this lecture.

The lecture, with pictures, will convey the auditor from Singapore to Kwala Lumpur, thence through beautiful scenery, forests of bamboo, avenues of palms, the most luxuriant gardens and will show the largest tin mine in the world. It will show the Sakil of the jungle untouched by civilization; a trip through Borneo, showing the head-hunting, native Dyaks, and the fine possibilities of one of the remote tribes of earth.

The public will be made welcome to this lecture to the capacity of St. Paul's. The Male Quartette will render one of its fine numbers.

SOME IRRIGATION CONGRESS NEWS

Officials Are Advised By Chairman Theodore E. Burton, of Ohio, That the Waterways Commission Will Be Represented.

The Inland Waterways Commission appointed some time ago by President Roosevelt will be represented at the National Irrigation Congress to be held in Sacramento September 2-7 next. This information has been conveyed officially to the Irrigation Congress management in a letter written to W. A. Beard, chairman of the National Executive Committee, by Hon. Theodore E. Burton, of Chicago, chairman of the Commission.

The appointment of this commission by the President is regarded as a very important act and deeply significant of the trend toward national conservation and development of the forest and stream resources of the country. Its purpose as outlined by the President at the time of its creation is to prepare and report a comprehensive plan for the improvement and control of the river systems of the United States.

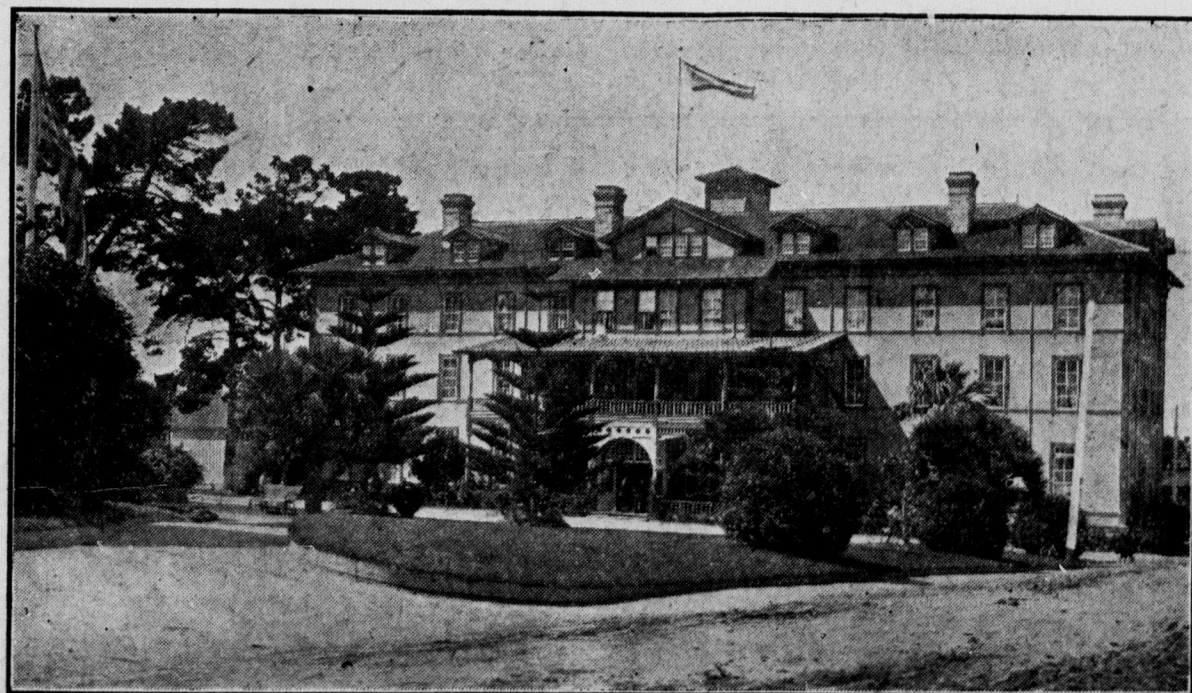

In the course of his letter to the members announcing their appointment, the President said:

"The time has come for the merging of local projects and uses of the inland waters in a comprehensive plan designed for the benefit of the entire country. Such a plan should consider all the uses to which the streams may be put and should bring together and co-ordinate the points of view of all users of water. The task involved in the full and orderly development and control of the river systems of the United States is a great one, yet it is certainly not too great for us to approach. The results which it seems to promise are even greater."

The members of the commission are Hon. Theodore E. Burton, chairman of the Rivers and Harbor Committee of the House of Representatives; United States Senator Francis G. Newlands, of Nevada; United States Senator W. Warner; Congressman John H. Bankhead, of Alabama; General Alexander McKenzie, chief engineer of the United States Army; W. C. McGee, formerly president of the National Geographic Society; F. H. Newell, director of the National Reclamation Service; Gifford Pinchott, United States Forester; Herbert Knox Smith, United States Commissioner of Corporations.

The presence of members of this very important body will be an important factor in the National Irrigation Congress. To what extent the specific work of the Commission will figure in the discussion cannot be foretold, but it is certain that the larger effort in the direction of Government development of the streams and the preservation of their watersheds will form an important topic of general discussion.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Public of South San Francisco: That one who belongs to the public life of our community should be variously commented upon for riding upon the first car through our streets since the strike is to be expected. That the motives of one in so doing should be misunderstood is also to be expected. Such things all belong to the day's work and are to be taken as we take fair weather and foul weather, without making us disagreeable and ill-natured. Personally, I do not purpose to fight the battles of any corporation, while I do wish to see labor so perfectly organized that it may protect itself from all sorts of oppression. Acts of violence and childish obstructions do not indicate good, smoothly-running organization. Such things indicate weakness. If at any time my presence on a car would in the least serve to prevent acts of violence, or should I have personal friends upon the car subject to insult I should feel it my duty to be on that car, knowing well that only cowardice and fear for my well being would keep me off. At other times it is my choice to walk.

It is violence of all kinds that is to be avoided if we as a community do not wish to pay the penalty of mutual distrust. The prosperity, the business interests and the continued welfare of the community in general demand that peaceful conditions be maintained, else there will be distrust and hardships all around. If bitterness is stirred up and fanned into a flame by agitators it is the business men of the community that must finally foot the bill, and it is not fair to these men who daily serve us to make them suffer for our prejudices. There is an invariable law in nature to the effect that reaction is exactly equal to action. If we throw a ball against the wall it rebounds. If we throw stones in reality or only figuratively they somehow, somewhere, will come back to us to our discomfort. So let us have peace, good will and prosperity.

June 14, 1907. A. C. DODD.

JOAQUIN MILLER WOULD BE A UNITED STATES SENATOR

Off for Oregon with ambitions to exchange the mantle of the poet for the toga of a United States Senator, Joaquin Miller has gone northward from his picturesque retreat in the Olympian hills of Fruitvale.

The poet gave a farewell dinner Sunday, entertaining a few close friends with a recital of his plans to capture a political prize in the webfoot country.

After giving a lecture on July 3 to the students of the Oregon State University at Eugene, Miller will open a campaign on his old stamping ground in Grant county, where forty years ago he was "destrict" judge.

Miller purposes to go on a stumping tour of the State and to win his political spurs under the beneficent operations of the direct primary law.

NEW FIELD FOR PRIEST.

A dispatch from Half Moon Bay says that Father John Sullivan, who has been in charge of the parish at Halfmoon Bay for many years, was called recently to a larger field of usefulness at Redwood City. A farewell reception was given him in Pillar hall by his parishioners and friends on the eve of his departure, and general regret was expressed on his leaving that community.

PROFITABLE TO KEEP A TOWN CLEANED UP

How the Beauty of a Place Can Be Improved—Each Citizen Is a Part of the Town and Either Helps to Make or Unmake It.

Taken as a whole California is a beautiful State. Scarce a locality any where that does not abound in lovely environments. Especially is this true of the section known as Northern California. There the topography of the country is inviting to the eye because of its varied scenery. Green clad hills, rugged mountains, streams of pure water, and quiet valleys enchant the eye and attract the tourist as a home-maker. One thing, however, is noticeable in most of the small towns in the state, and even in many larger ones for that matter; there is not enough attention paid to outward appearance. Streets are not kept clean; weeds are not cut and burned from the vacant lots and there are too slovenly and unkempt conditions generally prevailing. It is some effort to clean up a town, and it also requires time and money to keep a place neat, but it pays to do it. The size of the town is not what makes it a desirable place to live in. A live, prosperous town is a desirable one, and such a town may be a small one. Every citizen should take a personal interest in its welfare. Each citizen is a part of the town and either helps to make or unmake the place. Prosperous citizens are always public-spirited and united. They take pride in their community. They stand together and work together for the interests of the town. They don't grumble and spend their time prophesying failures of private undertakings, but always stand ready to do their part and to help make enterprise a success, and that is what makes a town worth living in.

Civic pride, pride in everything which pertains to the place in which we live, is absolutely essential to the prosperity of the citizens. If this element is lacking, the town remains dead and the people become dissatisfied, the more progressive leave, and only the "let well enough alone" class remain.

California is wealthy enough now to begin to devote time and money to civic improvements. We need a campaign of education all over the State. In the northern tier, nature has done a marvelous work of its own, but it needs the genius of a man applied to its condition to acquire the rounding out of its possibilities. The mountain roads need work to make them what they should be. The streams need better bridges, and the streets and roads need cleaning and hundreds of thousands of trees set out on their sides to beautify them and afford friendly shade from the boiling summer sun.

Nowhere are better natural advantages offered to make the "Switzerland of America" than in the naturally beautiful section of which we speak. No other part of California is so lovely in summer, and if its people will organize local civic societies in every community, even if not a hundred souls reside therein, and these civic societies will address themselves studiously to the one idea of making all possible out of the natural advantages they possess, how incredibly rapid would the changed conditions appear.

No other section of the State would come anywhere near accomplishing such results in so brief a period of time. Water, the one thing needed to develop conditions to their best, flows abundantly much of the time, and is easily obtained when not flowing, where provided for in suitable reservoirs. So the things essential to California's splendor, as a State, are enterprise, civic pride, and everlasting hustle on the part of its citizens. As a matter of fact, property values depend on the enterprise of the people.—California Cultivator.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS TOLD IN BRIEF

Numerous Items of General Interest
Condensed in This Column to a Few Lines

It's a good thing—push it along—July 4th.

South City will be found on the map
after the Fourth.

Wm. Hyland has resumed his position at the packing house.

Miss Haaker and Miss Olsen of Redwood City were in town Tuesday.

Wm. Watson, recently connected with the stock yards, has gone to Salt Lake.

San Bruno will be represented by a float in the parade. Wonder if they will take the prize?

Little Miss Mildred Case brought down the house when she drew the tickets for Goddess of Liberty and her Aids.

Mrs. J. Eikerenkotter, accompanied by her daughters, Misses Lena and Emma, left for Los Angeles Wednesday to visit friends.

The drawing for Goddess of Liberty resulted as follows: For Goddess, Miss Lena Eikerenkotter; First Aid, Miss Alice Ringue; Second Aid, Miss Emma Guerra.

Three men were sentenced to the county jail by Judge McSweeney last Thursday morning. Two of the men were brought over from Colma and given ten days each for disturbing the peace. The third was given twelve days for vagrancy.

Chas. W. Adams, representing Richardson Bros., San Francisco, general agent for the Cary Safe Co.,
was a visitor to South City on Monday, and expressed great surprise at the importance of this place as a manufacturing center.

Among the features to be presented at the coming performance of "Confusion" at Metropolitan Hall, on the evening of June 22, will be the piano playing of Ernest Langenbach, between acts, and his buck and wing dancing at the close of the play.

Saturday night, June 22d, is the night. Keep it free from other engagements for "Confusion," a roaring farce, given by the South City Dramatic Club. The curtain will rise promptly at 8:15 p. m. During acts the doors will be closed, so come early and enjoy the whole of it.

There are various sorts of confusion;
the kind that comes with sitting down on sticky fly paper; the apparent confusion of a busy and well ordered shop;
the confusion of a dog fight, but there is no other confusion quite so delightful as the sort that will be found at Metropolitan Hall Saturday night,
June 22d.

The South San Francisco Dramatic Club will present their first play at Metropolitan Hall, Saturday night,
June 22d. It will be a constant comedy of errors from start to finish.
The young people are in training for this riot of fun under the direction of Mr. Laurie McCarthy, who has won local distinction among amateurs in San Francisco.

The Southern Pacific is doing rush work on the peninsula, and, though the Bay Shore cut-off has been considerably delayed, owing to the impossibility to get the timber as quickly as was desired for the building of trestles, it is said that, as the piling is now being received in large quantities, the cut-off will probably be ready for train service in about three months' time. Work is also being hastened on the Dumbarton bridge. All the grading has been done from Redwood City to the bay. When the cut-off is completed it work to a great advantage to South City.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

The following marriage licenses were issued from the County Clerk's office this week:

Frederick J. Smith and Kunigunda
J. Krug, both of San Mateo.
William Mitchell of San Francisco and Nellie Peel of San Bruno.

Fred A. Cunningham and Annie L.
McMillan, both of South San Francisco.

PROMISES OF THE PENINSULA

Somebody has said that the best way to judge a city's wealth is by its suburbs. If that be so, San Francisco, already envied by rural and semi-rural settlements numerous and thrifty enough to make her justly proud, is soon to have evidence, and to spare, of her material prosperity. The traveler of the near future who approaches the metropolis of the Pacific from the south will find the peninsula from San Jose north almost a continuous line of splendid suburban groups of homes, as beautiful in location and as artistic in conception and design as any on this continent. Quietly, but at the same time rapidly and steadily, a most significant development is going on all along the peninsula at whose extremity lies the mother city. It needs only realization of the promise that this section shall have easy, economical and rapid transportation to assure its future. The Southern Pacific—for it is the big corporation that, in reality, stands behind the peninsula railway —makes the promise and the dirt is flying at a rate to warrant faith in the pledge that within a year or little more there will be a swift electric service all the way from here to San Jose. Its construction gangs are pushing ahead at a surprising pace the lines running northward from San Jose, opening to the home seeker a country not to be surpassed for its quiet beauty, mild and even climate and fertile soil.

Transportation makes the suburb.
A very few years ago it was only a millionaire who could afford to own a home in the country. The luxury of of residence for a city man down among the oaks of San Mateo and Santa Clara was for the Ralstons, the Howards, the Sharons, the Eyres, the Haywards and the Floods. The suggestion that the man of moderate means could ever afford to have a country home would have been regarded as absurd. Only a Ralston could afford to have relays of horses from his country place at Belmont to reach the city in time for the opening of business. But the trolley car has changed all that; it has made an end of city congestion for the moderately well to do; it has brought the city to the country and the country to the city; has substituted orchards and gardens for planked back yards and flung the actual city limits of San Francisco across two neighboring counties.

And the region south of San Francisco is marvelously attractive to the home builder who wants room to breathe in, flowers and trees and spacious fields to gladden his soul when the day's work is done. Mile on mile of level or gently rolling land between the San Bruno hills and San Jose awaits the suburbanites. It is a noble country, almost any acre of it fit for a park. The soil is deep, rich and well watered. The trees upon it are many and of a generous growth. From the bay to the hills it is a prospect to fill the eye and rejoice the heart of the landscape gardener. It is not difficult to see why every parcelling out of the big holding in this territory has been rewarded by throngs of eager purchasers buying to keep and to build rather than to sell when the price advances.

In the development of the peninsula it should not be forgotten that the maturing of the larger railroad plans is bound to have a strong stimulative effect. The location of the Southern Pacific's enormous freight yards at Visitation means the early establishment there of a prosperous town, the chief element of whose population will be a large number of well paid men in the company's employ, men of the most desirable class as builders of a new community. Also, at or near the western approach of the great Dumbarton bridge there will surely be another settlement of material consequence in the growth of the peninsular adjunct of San Francisco.—San Francisco Call, June 10.

JAPANESE INFLUX CHECKED.

United States Immigration Commissioner Hart North says that the amended immigration law prohibiting Japanese laborers from landing here had put an end for the time being

SATURDAY JUNE 15, 1907

THE Fourth of July committee is leaving nothing undone to make the coming celebration a great success.

THE coming celebration of Fourth of July will be one of the greatest that has occurred in South City. All residents should aid the committee by inviting friends elsewhere to come here on that day.

A LABORER in San Francisco the other day paid $375 in gold coin for a bundle of papers alleged to be $1,000,000 in currency. Of course, they were bogus. Another illustration of the apt saying that "a fool and his money are easily parted."

A VERY neat magazine publication, entitled "Oak Leaves", has reached our desk. It is issued by the Fair Oaks Publishing Company and its place of publication is Fair Oaks, Sacramento county. The magazine is devoted to the interests of that section, and will strive to encourage the incoming of new settlers.

THE ENTERPRISE would suggest that now is the time for the residents of South City to clear their premises of weeds and rubbish of whatever character that has accumulated. If we would interest the outside world in our splendid locality for business and homes we must be consistent and live up to what we preach. There are beautiful residences with well-kept grounds in this city, and there is no reason why the humblest resident should not have enough local pride to keep up a neat lawn and some flowers. During the summer thousands will visit this section and if we want to increase our population rapidly we must make our surroundings attractive. It will cost little to plant and keep up lawns and flowers in our front yards. We have the location, soil and climate to make South City one of the most prosperous and beautiful in California. Now, people, get busy.

MRS. OLSEN DIES AFTER SHORT ILLNESS.

Mrs. Mamie Olsen, wife of William Olsen, died at her home in this city after a short illness. Mrs. Olsen was well-known in this neighborhood, having served as a trained nurse many years.

The deceased came to South San Francisco about eight years ago and a few years later became the wife of Mr. Olsen. She was the daughter of Mary and the late Thomas Naughton and sister of Mrs. Lizzie Rodgers, Mrs. Julia Hawes, Mrs. Anna Gannon, of Napa, and John Naughton, of Leavenworth, Kansas, and niece of Annie Naylor. She was a native of Ohio, aged 35 years, 2 months and 18 days.

The funeral took place from her late residence at 12:30 to-day and from the Catholic church at 1:30. The interment was in Holy Cross cemetery.

BALL RETURNS TO SOUTH CITY

Man Who Skipped His Bail Last February Must Face Trial For a Serious Charge.

John Ball, who skipped his bail on February 23d last, was returned to South City last Thursday to answer the charges brought against him by fifteen-year-old Fannie Monize. Ball was caught in Arizona while working for the railroad there and returned here for trial.

After skipping his bond Ball was seen in Los Angeles, but before he could be located there he moved to Arizona. There he was recognized by descriptions sent out by Sheriff Chatham and arrested by railroad detectives.

His trial has been set for June 18 and until that time he will remain in the county jail without bail. His attorney is James H. Creeley of Oakland.

DEATH OF MRS. W. A. CLARK.

Died, near Alpine, California, June 5, 1907, at the age of 68 years, 4 months and 5 days, Jennie C. Clark, the dearly beloved wife of W. A. Clark, and dearly beloved sister of Mrs. J. L. Wood. Mrs. Wood left her home here upon notice of the serious illness of Mrs. Clark and reached her bedside to nurse and care for and comfort her only sister for eleven days before the final summons came. In compliance with the request of Mrs. Clark made during her last illness, her body was taken to her old home at St. Louis for interment.

Goddess of Liberty.

At the previous drawing for Goddess of Liberty Miss Lena Eikernkotter was the choice for that position. Miss Eikernkotter, while thanking the committee for the honor conferred, and wishing them every success, could not possibly take the position, as her visit to Los Angeles will be prolonged beyond that date, therefore another drawing took place Friday evening and resulted as follows: For Goddess of Liberty, Miss Emma Guerra, nominee of the I. O. R. M.; First Aid, Miss Alice Ringue, U. A. O. D.; Second Aid, Miss Charlotte Davis, W. O. W.

POCKET FOUND GUILTY.

James J. Pocket, a saloon keeper at Colma, was found guilty of battery in Judge McSweeney's Court yesterday afternoon and will be sentenced by the Judge at 10 o'clock this morning. Pocket was charged with striking Owen McHugh, a contractor, on June 5th because the latter rode upon a street car operated by non-union men. The evidence in the case went to show that McHugh alighted from a car and entered Pocket's saloon to get a drink. Pocket refused to serve him and when McHugh left the saloon the defendant followed him for nearly a block and then dealt him a blow on the back of the head which knocked him senseless.

NEW SPECIES OF PLUM.

According to a recent Berkeley dispatch, a new species of plum, having qualities guaranteeing ripening two weeks earlier than the Clymen seedling, which held previous early shipment records, has been discovered by J. P. Henry, of Rumsey, Yolo county, and shipped as an exhibit to Professor E. J. Wickson, acting director of the agricultural experiment station. The fruit belongs to the Japanese variety and is somewhat smaller than the Clymen plum. Henry plans to cultivate the plum extensively.

Sociable With the Pig.

A candidate on paying a second visit to the house of a doubtful voter was somewhat surprised at hearing him say that he would support him.

"Glad to hear it," said the candidate. "I thought you were against me."

"So I was at first," replied the voter. "When you called here the other day and stood by that pig pen and talked for half an hour ye didn't budge me an inch, but after you had gone away, sir, I got to thinkin' how ye'd reached yer hand over the rail and scratched the pig's back till he lay down wi' the pleasure of it. I made up my mind that when a man was so sociable as that wi' a poor fellow creature I wasn't the one to vote against him."

MAYOR SCHMITZ FOUND GUILTY

AFTER BEING OUT TWO HOURS JURY FINDS MAYOR GUILTY AS CHARGED.

District Attorney Declares Work of Convicting Millionaire Criminals Is Now Made Easier.

San Francisco, June 14.—Eugene E. Schmitz, Mayor of the city of San Francisco, has been convicted of the crime of extortion, and is in custody.

District Attorney Langdon declares that "the predatory princes of finance" will now be prosecuted until every guilty man has been brought to justice.

The jury that tried Mayor Schmitz, after listening to a day of furious argument, reached a verdict in short order. And now the Mayor, in the custody of the Sheriff, cannot be admitted to bail except upon the discretion of Judge Dunne.

Abe Ruef, a few months ago the political master of the city, boss of two political parties, and with an ambition to be a United States Senator, has pleaded guilty, and is open to a sentence of five years in the penitentiary.

MAYOR EUGENE E. SCHMITZ.

Eugene E. Schmitz, whose sudden rise from poverty to riches has been one of the great political scandals of modern times, has been convicted of extorting some of his wealth from the French restaurant keepers of his home city. He, too, is subject to a five-year term.

The District Attorney now declares that the work of convicting the millionaire criminals who have made the crimes of Schmitz and Ruef possible will be far easier because of the conviction of the first two malefactors.

The unanimity of the jury in the case of Schmitz tells the story of the sentiment in the community concerning graft, bribe-takers and bribe-givers. There was no trouble, to secure a verdict once the case had been given into the jury's hands. On a preliminary ballot one juror voted for an acquittal, but merely to provoke discussion over a point in the Judge's charge that he did not understand; and immediately upon a formal ballot being taken, the entire twelve jurors voted "Guilty as charged."

The jury retired at 6:20 and reported to the court that it had agreed upon a verdict at 8:15 p. m. "Gentlemen of the jury, have you agreed upon a verdict?" asked Clerk McManus, after calling the names of the twelve men. "We have," replied Foreman Charles S. Capp.

"What is your verdict," asked the clerk.

"We, the jury, find the defendant, Eugene E. Schmitz, guilty of felony, to-wit, extortion," replied the foreman.

The jury was then discharged.

Mayor Schmitz Says He Is Innocent.

"No matter what the decision of the jury, which was gotten under most adverse circumstances regarding myself, I still maintain and affirm that I am absolutely innocent of the crime charged and will fight to the last resort," said Mayor Schmitz last night. "As I said before my trial, I did not expect, nor did I receive, fair or even decent treatment at the hands of Judge Dunne, and realizing his prejudice, I made every effort to have the case transferred to any other judge in the State. I do not take this as defeat, and the decision makes me all the more determined to seek and secure justice in another court."

ARRIVE AT THE HAGUE

DUTCH CAPITAL IS FILLING UP WITH DELEGATES TO PEACE CONFERENCE.

The Hague, June 14.—The delegates of various countries to the second Hague peace conference, which will be formally opened tomorrow, accompanied by a host of secretaries, technical experts and attaches, together with a small army of newspaper correspondents, are arriving here by every train, and the lazy old Dutch capital is beginning to buzz with an animation such as has not been witnessed since the conference in 1889.

The Austrian delegation was first on the ground. General Horace Porter, former Ambassador to France and one of the American plenipotentiaries, arrived yesterday, as did the French, Japanese and other delegates.

Already a feeling is prevalent among the arriving diplomats that the United States is destined to play a great role in the coming conference. Under her auspices the countries of South and Central America will be introduced to Europe on a footing of equality. The European delegates entertain no doubt that all the representatives of America will present a practically united front at this conference, and henceforth they will be an immense factor in such world conventions. Some surprises are expected from the other side of the Atlantic.

Railway to Pay Heavy Damages.

New York, June 14.—A jury in the Supreme Court before Justice O'Gorman yesterday returned a verdict for $101,789 in favor of Mrs. Sarah L. E. Read and against the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company for the death of her husband, Frank B. Read.

The automobile of Read was struck by an engine, the approach of which was concealed by a train standing at the station. The warning bell was out of order and failed to give notice of the engine's approach.

A verdict for $30,000 was awarded recently to Miss Noakes, who also was in the automobile, and $10,000 to the chauffeur. Miss Noakes and the chauffeur each lost a leg.

Tiffany Will Sue Gould for Gems.

New York, June 14.—Another turn was given to the litigation of Howard Gould and his wife yesterday when it was announced that Tiffany & Co. would bring suit against the millionaire for $60,000 for jewelry purchased for Mrs. Gould since their separation. Mr. Gould says he is not responsible for the bill.

A friend of Mr. Gould said the millionaire and his legal adviser have found that the law holds the husband not responsible for his wife's debts if such were not contracted for necessities.

Italian Writers Fight to the Death.

Naples, June 14.—Marino Palobille, a writer of popular songs, and Alfonso Macale, owing to literary jealousy, began an acrimonious debate which ended in a fight with knives. Macale was stabbed to the heart and killed and Palobille is dying from a wound in the side.

Former Secretary of Greeley Crazy.

Allegan, Mich., June 14.—Don C. Henderson, once private secretary of Horace Greeley and for many years publisher of the defunct Allegan Journal, was yesterday taken to the insane asylum at Kalamazoo by direction of the Probate Court.

A Feminine View.

"When I was young, my dear, girls were not allowed to sit up so late with young men."

"Then, papa, why do you allow me to do so? It would be so much more interesting if you would only forbid it."—Judge.

ORCHARD CRIES LIKE A CHILD

WITNESS BREAKS DOWN WHEN QUESTIONED CONCERNING CHANGE OF HEART.

Former Governor Peabody Arrives in Boise and Extends Hand to His Would-Be Murderer.

Boise, June 14.—After withstanding with marvelous strength of nerve and muscle a week's examination that was one prolonged confession of crime, Harry Orchard yesterday broke down and for a few moments wept like a child. His unnerving came with the story of his conversion and confession and the mention of King David, the Biblical figure which is supposed to be Orchard's later guide.

The defense had given solemn tone to the scene preceding the meeting between Orchard and Detective McParland, to whom he confessed, by showing that Orchard was first illegally brought to the penitentiary and thrust into almost solitary confinement. His only cell neighbor was Bob Weeter, a condemned murderer. Then came the first McParland interview and the story of King David and Uriah. Orchard faltered and tried to hold back his tears, but he lost the struggle. The tears streamed from his eyes and, reaching for his handkerchief, he buried his face in his hands. The questions went on mercilessly as before, but it was a full three minutes before the answers were coming in the old sure tones.

The defense, carrying the confession forward, tried to show that McParland had played a disreputable part in the Molly McGuire and that he had promised Orchard immunity.

The earlier part of the cross-examination as to the Steunenberg crime was largely devoted to an effort that Orchard had been public in his actions at Caldwell and had sought to draw attention to himself and his crime.

Orchard, in low and shaken tones, told of his conversion. How when in the penitentiary he thought over his past life he thought of putting himself out of the way, and that he ought to make a clean breast of it all. He said he had come to feel that the grave did not end it all. The story was told to a hushed courtroom, the silence only broken by the drone of Orchard's voice.

Orchard also testified that he was a Mason when he lived in Canada and a member of the Colborn Lodge.

The defense has not spared Orchard. His character as a criminal has developed until almost every crime in the calendar, big and little, has been brought home to him. The most remarkable thing about the man is the absolute nonchalance with which he admits to the commission of these crimes.

"You committed burglary?" asked Richardson.

"I do not know just what you mean by burglary," replied Orchard.

"I mean that you broke open a railroad depot and stole a trunk," explained the cross-examiner.

"Oh, yes, I did that," Orchard said without the slightest hesitation or change of tone.

The plot to kidnap the children of Orchard's former partner in the Hercules mine prospect is looked upon by the defense as a strong proof of the duplicity of the man.

Governor Peabody Greets Orchard.

Former Governor Peabody and Harry Orchard met face to face in the office of J. P. Hawley a few minutes after the recess was taken at noon. Orchard, while plainly nervous from the strain of the morning's examination, had recovered his equanimity and was speaking to one of the men who had accompanied him from the courthouse when the Governor entered. Orchard recognized him at once. His face changed and as Mr. Peabody approached the man who had hunted for him a year seeking opportunity to kill him. Orchard's face changed. He shrank back and trembled. The former Governor smilingly held out his hand, saying: "How are you, Orchard?"

Orchard broke down completely. He said:

"I am ashamed to look at you, sir, I am ashamed to speak to you."

The Governor reassured him in a few words and Orchard replied:

"I am thankful that I didn't kill you and am spared the thought of that crime."

WHAT HEPBURN SAYS

IOWA CONGRESSMAN SAYS PEOPLE ARE AFRAID OF RAILROAD FINANCIERS.

Santa Barbara, June 14.—With the assertion that investors are not afraid of railroad operation or operators, but railroad financiers and financiering, W. P. Hepburn, Congressman from Iowa, author of the Federal rate law, who has arrived here from the East, introduced an attack on those who, he said, were obstructing the railroad regulation policy of the administration with the false cry that the Government is deliberately ruining them by obstructing their credit.

"What is engaging the attention of President Roosevelt and many other great thinkers today," said Mr. Hepburn, "relates only to such control of the instrumentalities of commerce as will prevent a thief, who happens to be a railroad president from destroying a capacity of a railroad to do its share in a proper way in the movement of the commerce of the United States."

Hard Fight With a Centenarian.

San Bernardino, Cal., June 14.—Chief Antone, an Indian over 100 years old, gave Sheriff Ralphs and two other officers an exciting battle last night in an effort to liberate himself from ropes and handcuffs, having been taken into custody on an insanity charge. For days Antone has been wandering among the willows along the Santa Ana river, subsisting on roots and terrorizing other Indians in the region by his wild actions.

After repeated complaints, the Sheriff started after the Indian, surprising him lying in a field. He fought savagely, attempted to bite the officers, scratching and when lifted into a carriage kicked the front seat to pieces. Only the strength of the three officers prevented him from jumping from the vehicle.

Big Find of Copper in Far North.

Victoria, B. C., June 14.—The steamer Amur from Queen Charlotte Islands and northern ports, brought news of an extensive find of copper, 100 feet wide and traced for 4,000 feet, believed to be a far greater proposition than the Treadwell mine. The ore goes about 3 or 4 per cent. The mine was discovered by a Swede, who has been offered $600,000 from three different United States capitalists for the undeveloped property. The find was made twenty-five miles from where the mines previously discovered are being extensively developed. About 4,000 tons of ore is reported ready for shipment.

Admit Violation of Anti-Trust Law.

Portland, Ore., June 14.—Twenty more of the indicted furniture dealers appeared in the United States District Court today and pleaded guilty to violating the Sherman anti-trust law, and were fined various amounts from $10 to $25. It is expected that very few of the 180 persons and firms indicted will contest the indictment.

Willard Must Hang.

Sacramento, June 14.—Governor Gillett has refused to grant a further stay of execution to Frank Willard, sentenced to be hanged for the murder of Sheriff White of Mendocino county in 1905. Willard has been granted two reprieves and a request for a third was denied. Willard will hang at San Quentin.

Gould's Los Angeles Line.

Los Angeles, June 14.—From official statements made here it now seems practically certain that the Western Pacific Railway will include an extension from Oakland to Los Angeles and will touch the water at Wilmington Harbor.

WHAT ROOSEVELT OWES THE PRESS

PRESIDENT DECLARED TO BE SLOW IN ACKNOWLEDGING HIS INDEBTEDNESS.

Washington Editor Tells the National Editorial Association What Newspapers Have Done.

New York, June 14.—Crosby S. Noyes, of Washington, D. C., editor of the Star, addressed the National Editorial Association yesterday.

Mr. Noyes compared the achievements of Captain Smith in planting and sustaining the English colony with the deeds of President Roosevelt in this generation and declared that they "were as worthy of glorification, but lacked the aid of the newspaper press that had so greatly helped the latter in his upward career."

The newspapers, the speaker declared, had given Mr. Roosevelt their vigorous support in his reform policies; have exploited his sayings and doings through the twenty-four hours of the day; have glorified the man and his work and made his name a household word in every home in the land.

"Mr. Roosevelt has seemed somewhat slow in acknowledging his debt to the press," Mr. Noyes said, "but perhaps he will think of it some day when he is not too busy."

The first appearance of the reporter, Mr. Noyes said, was when Joseph Gath of the National Intelligencer, covered Daniel Webster's reply to Hayne.

In discussing the attitude toward the press of "our rulers, state and national," the speaker declared that they have, with two or three exceptions, been on friendly terms with the newspapers. In discussing President Roosevelt's attitude the speaker said:

"He has declared himself in favor of clean, healthy newspapers, with clean, healthy criticisms, which shall be fearless and truthful, but when it comes to the test, it is seen that he does not relish the fearless and truthful criticisms when they are exercised at his expense. But the newspaper men have no quarrel with the President. There is some friction between them, but no rupture, and Secretary Loeb dispenses the White House news with tact and intelligence."

"Mr. Roosevelt has no animosity to the press, and I fancy he has no keener enjoyment in life than in association with bright newspaper men, as, for instance, at a Gridiron dinner, when, after a busy day superintending the affairs of the universe, he drops in upon these entertainments and enters into the spirit of the occasion with all the glee of a school-boy just let out for the hot days. And his laughter is the very heartiest to be heard when the Gridiron boys are giving him a pretty hot roast over some of his official eccentricities."

"After all, President Roosevelt is a good deal of a boy, as well as the most masterful President."

Russians Abandon Japanese.

Mukden, June 14.—All the Russians formerly employed on the island of Saghalien have abandoned the Japanese there, though they are needed in various industries. The frontier line in Saghalien and between Russia and Korea is strictly military. Russia's contentions regarding the fisheries have been disregarded and the negotiations for joining the Russian and Japanese railways at Kwang-Chengsu have failed, the Japanese conducting both along their own lines. The Russians declare their inability to combat Japanese advances or Manchurian interests.

Noted Temperance Man Ill.

Los Angeles, June 14.—Francis Murphy, the great temperance advocate, is ill at his home here. He has been confined to his bed for several days. Anxiety is felt for his recovery.

FRATERNAL ORDERS

The dance given by White Eagle Circle, No. 56, U. A. O. D., in Metropolitan Hall Saturday last was a delightful event, which will not be easily forgotten. The ladies, dressed in white, with here and there a flashing gem, gave brilliancy to the scene. "The best music we ever danced to," was the expression of the ladies. "The best time we ever had," "The best ever," "A jolly, sociable crowd," was the way the gents expressed it, and so it was. It was "sun-up" before "Home, Sweet Home" was played, when rousing cheers were given for the success of White Eagle Circle, No. 56.

Miss Mary McDonald, Mrs. G. C. Luce and Mr. Luce leave for Los Angeles Sunday next as representatives of White Eagle Circle to the Grand Circle of California, which convenes Monday in the southern metropolis.

The members of Wahnitia Council, No. 35, have decided to have a float in the parade July 4th. Good for them.

The Chiefs of Tippecanoe Tribe, No. 111, are preparing a surprise for the visitors to the Fourth of July celebration. They may keep open house on that day for visiting brothers.

W. O. W.

This growing branch of the order have set their hearts on winning the prize the committee are offering for the best float in the parade, which will be drawn by eight horses. A big-hearted brother or brother-in-law of San Francisco has promised the team.

Woodmanship will be represented in the parade by visiting brothers from Oakland, San Francisco and San Jose. The drill contest for $50 prize will be a big attraction.

CONDEMNATION SUIT FILED

The Central California Railway Company has commenced a suit in the Superior Court against the Morgan Oyster Company and others for a right of way over tide land near Ravenswood. The property sought to be condemned contains nearly seven acres. The company is now engaged in constructing the Dumbarton bridge and has nearly all its right of way.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

Miss Josephine M. Miner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miner of this city, has announced her engagement to Mr. Edward Gros de Mange, the wedding to take place at the home of the bride's parents June 20. The young couple will then move to San Francisco, where they will make their future home.

Miss Miner is an elocutionist of ability and has won many friends at the different entertainments in which she has taken part in this city. The prospective groom has a position of trust at the Fuller Paint Works and is closely related to Edward Dufour, Superintendent of that institution.

REDWOOD CITY
NOTES IN BRIEF

Mrs. M. Goldsmith left on Thursday last for her old home in Minneapolis, and will visit farther east before she returns.

Mrs. R. Albert returned from a trip to Texas much improved in health.

Mrs. L. D. Rathbone of Berkeley is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Christ.

Mr. Watt and daughter, Miss Jessie, visited Redwood on Sunday.

Edith Kelly is spending part of her vacation with her friend, Mildred Smith. Miss Edith expects to visit her mother at El Paso, Mexico, before college opens.

John Roller of Alameda recently visited his son, Mr. C. Roller.

Miss M. E. Hilton was a guest of Miss Clara Shell the first of the week.

Geo. L. Poole, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Poole, graduated last week from the College of Physicians and Surgeons. He took the course of dentistry, and will probably practice his profession in San Francisco.

Mrs. P. Teague, who has been a resident of this place for nearly fifty years, passed her 86th birthday on Saturday last. Mrs. Teague has had a wonderful constitution, and, until the last year, has enjoyed the best of health.

B. T. Cooper, who has grown old in the employ of P. P. Chamberlain, has resigned his position and retires from active service. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper will make their future home with their son Morris in Oakland.

Mrs. S. Stambaugh, widow of Dr. Stambaugh, so well remembered by old timers, died at her home in Delaware last month. Mrs. Stambaugh disposed of most of her property here before leaving for the east. Dr. Stambaugh died in this place about ten years ago.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church, gave a social last Friday evening. A good program was well carried out, and the social hour was enjoyed by the large number present.

A sharp shock of earthquake on Monday last quickly emptied places of business as well as homes. The schools were closed for the day, as many of the children were almost hysterical with fright.

The High School Trustees have about filled the vacancies in the school caused by the resignations of some of the teachers. The Faculty will be composed of the following: S. P. McCrea, Principal; Miss Salamon, from Santa Paula, who will teach English and drawing; Miss Boyd from Fresno, Latin and German; Miss Anthony, mathematics and science, and Professor Carrington will have charge of the music.

SOCIAL SALOON IS OPENED.

A large crowd attended the opening of the new Social Saloon on Grand Avenue last Saturday evening. The proprietors, Wallace & Leahy, were on hand early in the evening and received congratulations from their many friends upon the neatness and inside decorations of the place.

The feature of the evening was the entertainment furnished by Charles Russell and Wm. Leahy, two vocalists of ability. About 10:30 o'clock the large crowd was invited to partake of an excellent lunch spread in the rear of the saloon.

During the evening the champion pool game was played between W. J. Martin and Howard Maddon and Mike Sullivan and Frank Knowles. The game was won by the latter.

A Successful Opening.

The opening of Oak Run, at the corner of Grand Avenue and Cypress Street, Berlinger Bros. proprietors, last Saturday evening was a successful one. The good things in the eating and drinking line were dispensed with a lavish hand, interspersed with splendid music by the electric piano. The Berlinger Bros. have fitted up their new place at considerable expense, and will furnish their patrons with the best of wines and liquors.

DOES NOT QUIT HIS POST.

Pluck of Chicago Motorman Averts a Panic.

Chicago, May 17.—John Maloney, motorman on a westbound Chicago and Oak Park elevated train, proved himself a hero last night when, with his clothing a mass of flames, he remained at his post after the circuit-breaker on the motor car set fire to the coach. His pluck averted a possible panic. He was severely burned and may not survive.

Maloney escaped from the burning car by climbing out of a window to the front platform, where the flames on his garments were extinguished by two men, who wrapped him in an overcoat and rolled him on the platform. He was removed to St. Ann's Hospital. The train at the time was filled with passengers. More than fifty women and girls, passengers in the rear cars, were unaware of their danger until they arrived at the Fifty-second avenue station.

Gossiping Women Caused Divorce.

Oakland, Cal., June 14.—Judge Ellsworth today granted an interlocutory decree of divorce to John Oliver from Felcia Oliver upon the plaintiff's testimony that a "gossip club" in Centerville "knocked" him until his wife became dissatisfied with him and refused to live with him any longer. Oliver said that the "gossip club" was formed by a group of Centerville women, who met frequently to discuss the shortcomings of their husbands.

He Liked School.

A bright little four-year-old boy was taken to school for the first time. After he had been given a desk and set to work he suddenly put up his little hand.

"What do you want, Fritz?" asked the teacher.

"I should like to know when the holidays begin," said Fritz.—Die Muskete.

BUYING MULES BY THE POUND.

Government Is Experiencing Difficulty in Procuring Horses.

Washington, May 24.—Increased difficulty is being experienced in obtaining horses and mules for the army. Bids which have just been opened show that prices generally have increased. For the cavalry, 725 horses are to be bought at an average price of $175 each. The artillery corps is to buy nearly 350, for which $211 is the average price. Army mules, heavy enough to do draft work, bring $188 each and nearly 300 of these have been contracted for. Lead mules, somewhat lighter in weight, bring $168, and pack mules, still lighter, $131. The quartermaster's department says that army mules are bought practically by the pound. An experiment is being made at Fort Riley, Kas., in buying yearly a small number of pedigreed colts and putting them through a course of training for the cavalry service. This experiment has proved beneficial and thirty-six of these blooded horses have just been purchased.

Many Killed When Church Collapses.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 31.—Scores of people were injured at a cornerstone laying by the collapse of the church flooring yesterday. Bishop Hogan of Scranton was slightly injured. A 5-year-old child of Kaspair Kallanszky of this city, who was among the injured, died last night.

Outdoor Sports Prohibited in Kansas

Topeka, Kas., May 31.—All outdoor sports, held either in connection with Decoration Day celebrations or otherwise, were ordered prohibited in Kansas yesterday as a result of the new State law passed by the last Legislature, which places a ban on all games upon this particular day.

To Manufacturers

The earthquake did but little damage to South San Francisco. The industries located here, the Western Meat Company, the Wool Pullery, the Butler Brick Company, the Pacific Jupiter Steel Company, the Steiger Pottery Works, the W. P. Fuller White Lead Works, and other enterprises, are all in full operation to-day. Not one of them having suffered any serious impairment by reason of the earthquake.

The South San Francisco Land and Improvement Company planned South San Francisco as a manufacturing suburb of San Francisco. With that object in view they originally purchased 3500 acres of land in San Mateo county on the bay front five miles south of the City of San Francisco, and have developed their property so that to-day they possess perfected nearly every feature desired by manufacturers.

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

Is a railroad terminal; it is on the main line of the Southern Pacific Railroad and accessible to all railroads; has deep water communication; owns and operates for its industries, a railroad connecting with the Southern Pacific and the water front; has electric street car service from factory to town and direct to San Francisco; has an Electric Light and Power Company; owns an independent water works, and has an abundance of fresh water for factory and house; has wharves and docks; a perfect sewerage system; a bank; a town hall; and a population of 3000 people; an extensive and fine residence district, where workingmen may secure land at reasonable prices and on favorable terms, as homes for themselves and their families.

FACTORY SITES

Can be obtained from the South San Francisco Land and Improvement Company on most reasonable terms.

The American Smelting and Refining Company recently purchased from this Company 200 acres of land and are on the ground to-day arranging for the immediate construction of a plant costing upward of $5,000,000. This means a vast increase in population, and a great augmentation for the benefit of all industries of every detail pertaining to rail and water communication.
